We follow AQA for English Literature and Language at UTC Oxfordshire. You can get a head-start by familiarising yourself with some examples of great English work by looking HERE

We also use Seneca to boost knowledge, test and support our learners. You can make a free online account HERE and take a look through the AQA English resources to ensure you can hit the ground running in September! Your Seneca account will also give you access to materials and tests from other subject areas so one account is all you need to get started!

We look forward to seeing you in September!
